Over 4 million Canadians are locked in poverty

END POVERTY: IT'S NOT A GAME

How Did This Happen?

Canadian and British Columbian government policies lock people in poverty:

- $6 billion spent on Olympics while thousands are hungry and homeless
- Canada is the only G8 country without a National Housing Strategy
- welfare is denied to people in need
- welfare rates ($610 per month) are too low to live on
- minimum wage ($8/hour) is below the poverty line and is now the lowest in Canada

Cost of Olympic-related services and facilities

Venues	$600 million
Program Spending	$125 million
Security	$400 million - $1 billion
2 Olympic Villages	$1.261 billion
Sea to Sky Highway	$775 million
Trade and Convention Centre	$883 million
RAV line	$2 billion
Total	$6.044 to $6.644 billion

How $6 billion could reduce poverty and homelessness

Raise welfare by 50% for 5 years	$2.5B
End the barriers that keep people in need from getting welfare for 5 years	$1B
AND build 12,720 new units of good social housing	$2.5B
PLUS raise minimum wage (0 cost to taxpayers!)

What Can We Do?

Poverty and homelessness are not inevitable – in fact, the good news is we have the keys. Phone, write, or email your MP, MLA, and municipal representative (and copy to rich.coleman.mla@leg.bc.ca) asking them to:

1. commit to a poverty reduction plan, with targets and timelines
2. build at least 2000 units of social housing per year (and support Bill C-304 for a national housing strategy)
3. remove the arbitrary barriers to getting on welfare that keep people in desperate situations
4. raise welfare rates to a level that provides an adequate living standard
5. raise the minimum wage to $10/hour and end the $6 training wage
